Welcome to Rochester Center for Sexual Wellness (RCSW)! I hope that we can build a lasting, trusting relationship in which you can accomplish the goals you set. This letter will explain a few things about our work, your rights, and responsibilities, as well as mine.

As a Licensed Clinical Social Worker, I follow the Code of Ethics set forth by the National Association of Social Workers (NASW) and the NY State Board of Behavioral Health. I am a Certified Sex Therapist that practices under the guidelines set forth by the American Association of Sexuality Educators, Counselors, and Therapists (AASECT). You can request a copy of those ethics at any time. It is important for you to know that as a client you have certain rights, and those rights will be reviewed with you.

The work you complete at RCSW is confidential except when you sign an authorization to release records, I believe you are a danger to yourself or others, I suspect child abuse with an identifiable victim, and records are required to be released by law.

Entering the therapy process may look different to everyone. You should understand that there can be risks associated with therapy as well as a variety of benefits. You may discuss these at any time in treatment.

If you should choose to leave therapy, it is best if we discuss the termination of therapy at a regular therapy session. If there is no session activity or phone contact for a period of 8 weeks, your file will automatically be closed. In most circumstances, your file can be re-opened upon completion of a new intake and payment of any balance due.

At RCSW we strive for the best standard of care. PLEASE NOTE that text or email are inappropriate means of contact in a crisis situation. I am available for emergent or urgent telephone support. However, I am not able to provide lifesaving interventions. Therefore, if you are seriously suicidal you need to contact 911, the psychiatric emergency department, or other first responders.

It is my pleasure to work with you, and I am happy to discuss any questions you may have regarding your care. Please be sure to discuss your fees and logistics with me prior to beginning treatment.

Sincerely,

Dan Rosen, LCSW-R, CST, CSTS AASECT Certified Sex Therapist and Certified Sex Therapy Supervisor
